THE 88 AND 65 NOTE INNER-PLAYER

PIANO = Manufactured only by the Cable Co., is the latest production of our factory.

Its distinctive feature is a scale which covers the full range of the piano keyboard (7½ octaves), and therefore allows music rolls to be used which are not abridged from the composer's original scores.

It also takes the 65-note rolls, which are used on most all other player pianos, so that it gives all of the advantages of these instruments with the additional 88-note feature.

With the 88-note scale, as arwith the 88-bote scale, as arranged in the Conover, Cable and Kingsbury INNER PLAYER Planos, any composition ever written can be placed upon a music roll and played without the slightest modification from the original.

Books for Children.

In reading to children what style of books command best attention and produce best results?

Charlotte Reeve Conover in the November Ladies' Home Journal expounds a sensible theory bearing on the subject thus: "There is no need of reading down to children. The great pleasure in the child world is effort. Children like to stretch, reach, pull and run. If their bodies are denied such physical exertion, they are stunted and the minds follow the law of the bodies. Give children mental mush with a spoon and they yawn. What they want is to pick bones and crack nuts. Let them do it. Select a book for its literary quality and let the little minds stretch up to it. If they cannot grasp the whole meaning, they will follow: if they cannot fully digest they will assimilate flavor.

Useful Device.

Useful Device.

Can you give me a new an ingenious idea for a workbag which I am making for a friend, and which I wish to make something out of the common?

A. C. C.

A device which is very useful and pretty is a combination workbag and work apron. A pretty way to draw up such a bag is by means of buttonholes forming a half circle from the belt, and cutting them off the sides and embroidered corners of the apron to form a ruffle. Ribbon is run through the buttonholes. The combi-

Norfolk and Southern Railroad, made a strong address, showing the interest of the railroads in the drainage problem and in Eastern North Carolina. He optimistically pictured Eastern North Carolina as the garden spot of the world, and the place where every wish of the heart may be satisfied. Dr.
Pratt also called on a representative from each of the nine drainage districts already formed. Short talks were also made by Lawrence Britt and E. T.
Lamb, general manager of the Norfolk and Southern. Every speaker was interrupted by dozens of practical questions, and the meeting was a regular
